Forecast For Strathclyde
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Friday 12 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Unsettled with showers or longer periods of rain.

Today:
Overcast, wet and windy, with showers that merge to longer and heavier periods of rain at times, particulally through the morning and across Argyll. However gradually turning drier from the northwest towards early evening. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Some patchy rain initially, mainly in east, gradually clearing from the west through the late evening and overnight, leaving most with a dry and bright start to the weekend. Minimum temperature 5 deg C (41 deg F).

Saturday:
A fine, dry and sunny day across the region with light winds. However some patchy light rain feeding from the west during the evening and overnight. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Sunday cloudy with rain spreading from the west, though this patchy and light in Central Belt. Monday mostly dry, bright, but also some patchy rain around. Tuesday brings blustery showers.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.